SPANISH NATION OPPOSES THE LAW

HOWEVER GOVERNMENT DECIDES THAT MOORS MUST BE FOUGHT.

ALFONSO IS IN COMMAND

General Weyler, the Butcher of Havana, to Be Sent to Morocco to Command.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madrid, July 27.—The trouble between the Kabyles and Rifas, in which Spain is involved in the neighborhood of Melilla, threatens to develop seriously. The main cause of the hostility of the tribes is the construction of a Spanish railway from Melilla to the mines about 12 miles inland. Repeated attacks on the Spanish troops guarding the works necessitated the sending of strong reinforcements, whose presence, far from overawing the Moors, seems to have stiffened their opposition.

In numerous engagements that have taken place in the last few days the Spaniards sometimes held their own with difficulty and had to fight desperately to protect their artillery from the furious attacks of the Kabyles.

There has been a great deal of hand to hand fighting and the Spaniards have lost several officers and many men killed, besides numbers wounded. The tribesmen have lost severely, but their fanatical courage is unquenched and at the moment the situation is so serious that the cabinet

END IN SIGHT ON THE TARIFF BILL

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE IS CONFIDENT OF REACHING AGREEMENT.

WILL FINISH WORK TODAY

House Confirms Senate's Plans as to Amendment to Constitution.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, D. C., July 27.—That before the end of the day there would be a complete agreement by the conference on the tariff bill, was the announcement made by some of the house members of the conference at noon today.

The house today agreed to the senate concurrent resolution authorizing the President forthwith to transmit to the Governors of the states a copy of resolution, recently adopted embodying the proposed amendment to the constitution regarding the imposition of an income tax.

TEXAS TILLERS OF THE SOIL CONVENE

Conventions Of Farmers and Stock Breeders Opened In Texas Agricultural College.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

College Station, Tex., July 27.—The great annual gathering of Texas farmers, fruit growers, nut growers, nurserymen, horticulturists, swine breeders, etc., opened here today and the town is crowded with delegates and visitors from all parts of the state. The various conventions are held in the extensive buildings of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, which is large enough to accommodate even the recent crowd assembled here. Most of the conventions will last through the week and for such an interesting and elaborate program has been arranged. Among the speakers who have consented to address the various gatherings are some of the best known authorities on their respective subjects.

SOCIETY WORLD AT LONG BRANCH SHOW

"Four Hundred" of New York and Others Exhibit Favorite Equines At Horse Show.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Long Branch, N. J., July 27.—Long Branch, Ellerton and the neighboring resorts displayed a lively interest in the opening of the sixteenth annual Horse Show Association. For the next four days, the Hollywood grounds will be the scene of a most brilliant gathering from the social sets of New York, Philadelphia and other cities. Alfred Vanderbilt, Paul J. Garg, Frank Gould and other owners of famous stables are among the exhibitors. Nearly $7,000 will be distributed by the association as prizes.

A BIG STATE FAIR IS OPENED AT FARGO

Annual Exhibition In North Dakota This Year Promises To Eclipse All Former Shows.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Fargo, N. D., July 27.—The annual Inter-State Fair opened today under most favorable auspices and with very flattering prospects of the most successful exposition ever held here. The merchants, live stock, machinery, agricultural products and other departments are well filled with choice exhibits and the program is one of unusual excellence. This year the management has added many free attractions, including balloon ascensions, vaudeville shows and other interesting features to occupy the intervals between the races. A record breaking crowd of visitors is expected during the four days that the fair will continue.

CHICAGO WATCHING THE GREAT INQUIRY

States Attorney Wayman and His Assistants Are Making It Warm For the Crafters.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Chicago, Ill., July 27.—Chicago is stirred to the core over the hearing of facts in vice graft. The startling revelations have been laid before the grand jury at the instance of State's Attorney Wayman and the 100 indictments already voted, it is declared, are but the first step in the inquiry.

STATE'S ATTORNEY, JOHN E. WAYMAN.

ALABAMA IS TO BE "DRYER" THAN EVER

Extra Session of Legislature Met Today to Make More Rigid Prohibition Laws.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Montgomery, Ala., July 27.—Pursuant to the call of Governor Comer the Alabama legislature met in extra session today. The main purpose of the session is to strengthen the prohibition laws. Recently the supreme court held that members of bona fide social clubs might keep liquor in lockers, and that no city or county might legislate against this right. Governor Comer believes that State laws can be enacted that will make even the possession of liquor illegal. Other matters with which the session will probably deal are child labor, municipal government by commission, impeachment of officers for failure to enforce laws, compulsory education, enforcing laws, pure food and drug laws, and a constitutional amendment providing for biennial sessions of the legislature.

REPUBLICANS DECIDE ON STATE OFFICERS

G. O. P. Men of Virginia Hold State Convention To Make Nominations For New Officers.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Newport News, Va., July 27.—Many delegates and visitors are arriving in Newport News to attend the Republican State convention, which will be called to order at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning to nominate candidates for governor and other state officers to be voted for at the election next November. For the first time in the history of the Republican party in Virginia the leaders believe they have some show of electing their state ticket, as a result of the split in the Democratic ranks. Several prominent Republicans are being boomed for the head of the ticket and it is possible there may be a lively contest in the convention before the choice is decided. It is understood that the platform will advocate statewide prohibition in opposition to the Democratic platform of local option.

OHIO VETERANS OF WAR WITH SPAIN AT ENCAMPMENT

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Kenton, O., July 27.—Soldiers and sailors who served in the army and navy of the United States during the war with Spain gathered here today in large numbers for the annual reunion of the United Spanish War Veterans of Ohio. The opening day was taken up chiefly with the exchange of greetings, the annual reports of officers and encampment organization. Much interest is manifested in the election of officers to tomorrow.

FAILED TO REACH SHORE SAFELY IN AN AERIAL FLIGHT

Hubert Latham Goes All But Two Miles Off the English Coast.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Saint-Germain, France, July 27.—Hubert Latham started on his flight across the English channel exactly at six o'clock.

Into the Sea
London, July 27.—At 6:44 p. m. Latham plunged into the sea two miles off the port of Dover.

Was Rescued
Dover, July 27.—Latham was rescued by a torpedo-boat later. He had succeeded in covering nearly 19 of the 21 miles of the channel.

Were Near Him
Five French torpedo-boats accompanied him from the French side of the channel, but were left behind by the fast flying monoplane.

Going to London
Latham had given out early in the day he proposed to fly from Calais across the channel and thence continuing the journey over land to London, 65 miles inland, thus eclipsing the recent exploit of Louis Bleriot.

Was Prevented
His accident prevented the accomplishment of either of these feats.

ENGLAND FEARS A COAL STRIKE

ENGLISH MINERS MAY FOLLOW EXAMPLE OF SCOTTISH BRETHREN.

WOULD PARALYZE INDUSTRY

Crisis In Affairs Brought About by Passage of So-Called Eight-Hour Labor Law.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

London, July 27.—The industries of Great Britain are facing a serious situation and are looking forward with tremendous anxiety and misgivings to the decision which the morrow will bring. Is there to be a national strike of the coal miners, or not, that is the question of which the final decision is expected tomorrow, when the executive committee of the Miners' Confederation of Great Britain will meet to canvass the votes cast at the referendum.

About ten days ago the Miners' Confederation, after a prolonged meeting, in which no decision could be reached, decided to submit the question as to whether or not a national strike should be declared in support of the Scottish miners, who are resisting a wage reduction of six pence per day, to the vote of the million or more members of the confederation. The referendum was completed today and tomorrow, it is expected, the executive committee, having canvassed the vote, will announce the final decision.

It is rather a serious matter, for should the decision be in favor of a national strike, the complete stoppage of the work in the mines would entail practically the complete paralysis of British industry. The crisis in the coal industry is due primarily to the passage last year of the so-called eight-hour law. It was put into effect on the first day of the present month, except in the districts of Northumberland and Durham, in the neighborhood of the location of the present difficulty.

The questions at issue in South Wales are two. The colliery owners contend that the shortening of the hours of work will prevent many mines from being worked productively, unless the men consent to the two-shift system, under which two distinct batches of miners are engaged in the pit, each for eight hours, thus giving sixteen hours productive labor in all. To this the men are hostile, as they assert that, with the double shift, it is difficult to keep the mines clear of dangerous gases. The owners contend that the system is safer. A second demand to which the men take objection is that they should work sixty hours in the year over and above the eight hours per day, which is permitted by the law.

The present difficulty is not the first which has arisen under the new act. Just before it went into effect a general strike was threatened over the situation in Wales, where the same questions were at issue as are now endangering the industrial peace. The trouble in Wales, however, was settled by a compromise. The sixty-hours question was left open with the understanding that it was agreed that it can be done safely and the men do not object; but the owners agreed not to introduce the system without first having consulted their men.

The men employed in the coal mines of England Scotland and Wales were working under an agreement which under ordinary circumstances, would not have expired until March, 1910, when the new law was passed, the operators contended, that it nullified the agreement, as it forced certain important alterations in working conditions. The result was that on June 1 of this year they formally notified the Miners' Confederation that they would terminate the agreement on the last day of June, the day before the new law became effective. This decision practically reopened the various questions of a more or less local nature, which would have remained dormant until the expiration of the general agreement in 1910, had it not been for the passage of the eight-hour law.

OHIO BANK TAKES VERY RADICAL STEP

Closes Up Insurance Company By Making Demand for Certain Securities.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Lima, Ohio, July 27.—The First National Bank of Tipton, Indiana, today entered replevin proceedings for forty thousand dollars in Cuyahoga bonds, placed in Escrow here by the Farmers and Citizens Livestock Insurance company, at the command of state insurance inspector Lombert.

This action forced a receivership for the insurance company today.

Jewelers Meet At Grand Forks. Grand Forks, N. D., July 27.—The semi-annual meeting of the North Dakota Jewelers' association began in Grand Forks today, to continue over tomorrow. The North Dakota Optical association is meeting in conjunction with the jewelers.

WAR ISSUE ACITATES SPAIN.

King of Spain at upper left, who is taking personal charge of the war. General Weyler, formerly Spanish captain general of Cuba, who will be placed in supreme command of the net at a meeting held today under the presidency of King Alfonso, decided to increase the force under General Marina, who is conducting operations, and keep on sending troops no matter how many may be necessary.

It is estimated that the Kabyles actually engaged in conflict number about 6,000 on foot and 15,000 horsemen, but should all the hill tribes join the movement, as it is feared they will, Spain will have to face 50,000 well armed men of desperate courage, a situation which would necessitate the putting into the field of 60,000 troops at a cost which might be ruinous in the present state of the country's finances.

The prospect and the general popular disinclination for military adventure, especially where national honor is not concerned and against wild tribesmen whom the sultans of Morocco themselves have never been able to subdue, is creating intense dissatisfaction with the government's handling of the Melilla affair, and has excited agitation in Madrid, Barcelona, and elsewhere against war.

There have been many demonstrations in the streets denouncing the government. Today a crowd, composed mainly of women, rushed the Southern railway station here trying to prevent the departure of troop trains. There were many street disturbances. Socialist and republican parties are taking every advantage of the popular feeling which is in the most combustible state.

The strikers at Barcelona have cut the telegraph wires to the capital. The last dispatch from that city said the strikers had invaded the factories and forced a complete cessation of work.

COUNCIL SESSION SETTLED NOTHING

NO ACTION ON DRUG STORES

However Another Saloon Is Added To the List—Other Business Transacted.

It took the common council half an hour last night to decide what was to be done in regard to the parade and the parade route. The council also had to consider the question of the parade route, which was left in abeyance. The council also had to consider the question of the parade route, which was left in abeyance. The council also had to consider the question of the parade route, which was left in abeyance.

The meeting was called for a special purpose, that of considering the advisability of ordering the circus management to run their parade anywhere else but across the Milwaukee and Jackson street bridges. The proposition of letting the parade know that the council considered the bridges unsafe by ordering the management to omit them from their line of march, met with considerable opposition from some of the aldermen and the matter was finally settled by leaving the matter to the highway committee and street commissioner with power to act.

First Motion.
The subject was opened by Ald. Buchholz who made the motion that the council authorize the highway committee and street commissioner to examine the bridges on the line of march and then, if they thought it necessary, order the line of march changed. Alderman Evans, then rose to remark that he had talked with the street commissioner and that the official had said that he considered the Milwaukee street bridge perfectly safe. Alderman Evans then asked where the rumor originated that Milwaukee street was unsafe. He stated that a loaded wagon crossed the bridge, he went on to quote Mr. Ben not whom he said was an authority on the condition of the bridges. Mr. Bennett, according to the alderman, believed every bridge in town perfectly safe except perhaps the Spring Brook bridge.

Other Views.
When Alderman Brown had concluded, Alderman Sheehan explained his view of the case. When the pikes were driven for the Jackson street bridge, some of them were placed with but a few blows of the hammer, while others proved harder to drive. This went to show that some of the pikes rested in soft ground and when a heavy load passed over them, they sunk and made the bridge uneven. With reference to the Milwaukee street bridge, he cited the two cases where horses had gone through the bridge this summer. As a measure of precaution he advised the city to notify the circus management that if they crossed the bridge, it would be at their own risk.

Aids Question.
Alderman Dullen then wanted to know why, if the circus were going to show in Janesville, it should not be made to use the Fair Grounds, so that out-of-town visitors would not have to be in the city and thus benefit the merchants instead of entering and leaving the cars at Spring Brook and not coming into town at all.

Decision.
After the matter had thus been discussed pro and con, it was settled when Alderman Evans' motion that the matter be left to the highway committee and street commissioner with power to act, was carried unanimously.

Saloon License.
Record time was made in granting a license to Mike Conley and James Hogen to run a saloon at 120 E. Milwaukee St. The bonds were ordered on motion of Alderman Dullen of the judiciary committee, the license granted on motion of Alderman Evans of the license committee while the city clerk made out the license which was signed by Mayor Carlo at once. The saloon, known as the Myers Annex, was opened this morning.

Grade on Division Street.
The much mooted question of the grade on Division street was also given its quietus. The matter has been brought up at several meetings and succeeded in ruffling the temper of the two aldermen most interested, Scott and Buchholz. The decision reached is expressed that the following motion presented by Alderman Scott and carried unanimously after Alderman Sheehan had been assured that the city would not be liable to damage suits.

The Order.
"Ordered by the Mayor and common council of the city of Janesville that the established curb line on each side of Division street from E. Milwaukee street to N. First street, be, and the same hereby is changed from a distance of 12 feet to a distance of 18 feet from the property line. Also that the sidewalk line on the east side of that portion of said street be and hereby is established at a distance of 5 feet from the property line and on the west side at a distance of 10 feet from the property line."

The above changes in the width of the street were made especially for the benefit of Mr. Summers and changes the width of the street from 42 to 50 feet.

Druggists' License.
It was intended by Chairman Evans of the license committee, that the question of druggists' licenses be brought up at the same time as the last saloon license. It is necessary, however, at a special meeting to call for action specifically on each matter, and this had been omitted in the case of the druggists' licenses. It had been announced also that the residents of Racine street would present a petition in regard to the storm sewer on that street between Main street and Garfield avenue, but the petition did not materialize.

CHAMPION LADY PEDESTRIAN OF THE WORLD.

Mrs. H. C. Schneider, who is to walk from St. Louis to Boston.

St. Louis.—Mrs. H. C. Schneider of this city will start Wednesday, July 28 on a walk of some 1,500 miles, from St. Louis to Boston by way of Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo and Rochester. The trip is expected to be completed within 45 days.

Mrs. Schneider has been a great walker for several years and thinks nothing of a little jaunt of 40 miles in a day. Her husband has been a professional walker and the two have enjoyed many trips out through the state together. When Weston passed through St. Louis one of her friends, Frank Johnson, jokingly said he would put up $500 if she would walk to Boston. She accepted the offer and will start tomorrow. She will be accompanied by her husband.

The schedule has been carefully made out and the first day's walk will cover 38 miles, which will bring them to Stanton, Mo. They expect to follow the Wabash track all the way.

Mr. Schneider goes along merely as a companion to his wife and will help her carry their suit case, which is her carry every foot of the way. Mrs. Schneider is 26 years old, weighs 155 pounds and is five feet seven inches tall. When seen at her home last night Mrs. Schneider said she had never made any money out of walking before, but that she had not any doctor bills to pay. "I've been walking for the pleasure there is in it and for the benefit to my health. If women would have walking parties instead of card parties more of them would enjoy living."

As It Ought to Be.
Things would be greatly simplified if the man who is ill would always enjoy eating enough, and if the man who is well could enjoy refraining from eating too much.

Noah R. Marker Takes All the Cash from the First National's Strong Box and Disappears—City Is Greatly Excited.

Tipton, Ind., July 27.—While $50,000 is given as the amount taken by Noah R. Marker, the absconding assistant cashier of the First National bank, which closed its doors yesterday, after it became known that he had fled, it is believed to-day that the amount will be much more. The town is in a great uproar.

Marker, after sweeping together the money, set the time lock on the safe so that it could not be opened until yesterday morning and left the city on a traction car for Indianapolis at eight o'clock Saturday night, telling his wife that he should spend Sunday with his father and mother in Indianapolis. Nothing more has been heard from him here.

Leaves Note for Brother.
Marker left a note on the desk of his brother, William Marker, cashier of the bank, saying he had gone forever and that he had taken "enough money to pay his expenses." The fact that he had emptied the cash box of nearly $50,000 was not known until the time lock gave admittance to the vault.

Whether Marker had previously taken money from the bank's funds and had covered up the defalcations by making false entries in the books cannot be known until a National bank examiner, who arrived to-day, has completed his investigations. The directors of the bank decided to suspend the bank's operation until the examiner should have taken charge of the books.

They posted on the front of the bank building a placard reading: "N. R. Marker, assistant cashier of this bank, has absconded with all its cash. The treasury department at Washington has been notified and the bank will remain closed awaiting the department's instructions."

Got Bank Into Litigation.

The bank has been involved in litigation for the possession of $10,000 of Cuyahoga county (O.) bonds. The bank's president, E. W. Shirk, to-day was notified by his attorneys in Lima, O., that they had obtained by replevin suit these securities, which had been held by the Farmers' & Citizens' Live Stock Insurance Company of Lima, O., and had given bond for them for double their value. This proceeding was begun by Mr. Shirk last week when, on returning to this city after several weeks' absence, he found that the banks had been compelled to pay to the owners of the securities the amount of their value. The bonds had been turned over to the insurance company by Noah Marker for examination, he said, and he had not demanded that they be paid for before they left his hands. When the owners insisted that either the bonds should be returned to them or that a draft for their value should be forwarded to them, Noah Marker obtained a loan of $10,000 from an Indianapolis bank on his own bank's part and he had settled for the bonds.

Books Are In Tangle.

Mrs. Shirk says she has not been able to find a record of this loan on the Tipton bank's books. Neither, he said, had he found a check for $5,000, representing a partial prepayment by the insurance company on the bonds, made last April.

"I do not know," said Mr. Shirk, "the condition of the bank's funds, but I do know we shall pay every cent of indebtedness. We are perfectly able to do this."

The resources of the First National bank amount to $1,100,000. Its capital is $100,000. Deposits amount to $845,771.

Will Return, Says Brother.

William Marker, the cashier, said he felt sure his brother would return in a few days and face prosecution. "He has been worrying over letting those bonds out of his hands until he is mentally deranged," said Mr. Marker. "He hardly ate or slept for ten days before he left."

Noah Marker had been connected with the bank 19 years. He was the Republican candidate for mayor of the city four years ago and was defeated. He was an active church member. He is 35 years old and has a wife and one child.

Jewelers and Opticians Meet.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 27.—A joint convention of the retail jewelers and the opticians of North Dakota began here to-day, and will continue through Thursday, the jewelers directing the morning sessions and the opticians those of the afternoon. The former organization is presided over by Frank V. Kent of this city, and among the speakers on its program are A. O. Wolf, J. A. Minder, W. A. Persey, C. H. Nesbit and W. H. Reighart. O. M. Varnson is president of the opticians.

Schreck Whips Marvin Hart.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 27.—There was no interference by the police with the heavyweight prize fight between Marvin Hart of Louisville and Mike Schreck of Cincinnati. Hart's seconds throw up the sponge in the fourth round after he had been badly beaten.

ZIEGLER'S BIG BARGAIN EVENT

A sale which includes ever suit on our stock tables with the exception of blacks and blues at one price for choice $9

IN all our experience there never has been a time when we were so well prepared to offer deep values as now. Never has there been an opportunity anywhere in this section of the country to secure bright new clothing at a single price so exceptional in its lowness.

In the line are $25.00 suits. In the line are $20.00 suits.
In the line are $22.50 suits. In the line are $18.00 suits.

While there are not so many suits in each lot, still from some one we can fit any man who wears size 34 to 48. There are included Hart Schaffner & Marx, Woodhull, union made, R. & W. Brand, and Society Brand of young men's suits. There are regular sizes to fit the regular shaped man, stout sizes for heavy set men, long and slims for the tall and slender men. The patterns and colors are the prevailing season's, shades, brown, olives and gray. We mean to eclipse any former sale ever held in this store and with the splendid lot of sizes, variety of styles and patterns, we are sure we can please you. There are more suits which sold at $18 and over in this offer than which sold at a less price; in fact on many of the suits we shall stand to lose a good round sum on the sale. This, however, is your benefit. When we make a statement you can bank on its being fact. An $18 or $25 suit or anything between, at $9 means just that the Ziegler word in a transaction is a cinch for the buyer.

WHY GALVESTON WAS NOT ALL DESTROYED

Big Sea Wall Protected the City From Fury of the Waves of the Gulf.

Galveston, Tex., July 27.—That Galveston would have been washed away for the second time, as she was in 1900, is admitted by every one who witnessed the fearful storm this week, if it had not been for her protection in the way of the sea wall. The world has heard much of Galveston and her courage in rebuilding the city after the awful havoc wrought less than ten years ago. Today she stands a model city in sanitation, health, government, and now it is proven beyond a doubt, in safety. The outlay of many millions of dollars on the sea wall surrounding the city and in the city itself in raising the grade

ly. The action was taken on the ruling of the court that Mrs. Sutton was the complainant in the case, and all the officers concerned in the affair were made party defendants. The hearing will not be resumed until Lieutenant Utley, another party defendant returns from abroad.

FRIENDSHIP BROTHERS IN ROW, Riot Starts in St. Paul Convention of Negro Order.

St. Paul, Minn., July 27.—Bitterness between two factions resulted in a riot when the Brothers of Friendship, a colored organization, attempted to begin its annual national convention here.

Both factions tried to obtain possession of the old state capitol where the meetings were scheduled to take place and there was a hand-to-hand conflict on the steps. A riot call was sent in and police reserves and an ambulance were hastened to the scene.

The police soon quelled the riot, which was bloodless, and Walter M. Farmer of Illinois, chairman of the title of grand master of the order, was ejected.

One More Victory for Woman.

Jersey justice was neatly sidetracked by woman's wit when the wife of a prisoner sentenced to pay a fine offered her baby to the magistrate for security. The prospect of acting as child's nurse caused a hasty recall of the fine. And once more the majesty of the law went down to ignominious defeat before the resources of the lady.

World's Busiest Street.

The shortest and busiest street in the world is Mansion House street, London. It is only about 500 feet long, and runs between the mansion house, the official residence of the lord mayor, and the Union bank of London, and everything and everybody that passes between "the city" which is the ancient section of the metropolis, and the rest of London have to go that way. Not long ago policemen were stationed to count the vehicles, two on either side. They were relieved every hour, because counting is very tedious work and acts upon the nerves. One set of counters reported 37,532 vehicles, another set counted 37,616 and the other two relays reported totals between these two extremes.

The Swordfish Season.
From this time onward the swordfish will live a precarious life, for this noon the first of the swordfish fleet got away, the schooner Valentia, which fitted out at T wharf. Another schooner is slated to start tonight, and in a few days a good sized fleet will be patrolling the waters all the way from Edgartown, Block Island, on the south, to Cape Shore on the north. The territory embraced is somewhat more extensive than usual on account of the backwardness of the season. This means that the fish are not getting into the more southerly waters as early as customary. The swordfish are harpooned, and many exciting contests have been waged between men in dories and the fish with the sharp point.—Boston Transcript.

Monotony Too Much for Tramps.
The sheriff of Burlington county, New Jersey, has adopted a novel method of ridding his county of tramps, and, incidentally, saving a good sum of money for the taxpayers. Bean soup was the agency employed. For a long time the Burlington county jail was a favorite haven for members of the "hobo" tribe, until the sheriff began the bean soup treatment. He gave it to them at every meal, with the result that the tramps, who began to see beans and talk about them in their sleep, begged for a change in the menu. The sheriff was obdurate, however, and the result is that Burlington county has been stricken from the itinerary of all members of the "looking for work and hope I won't find it" class.

Old Paintings Found in Berlin.

In Saarbrücken some workmen who were tearing down an old house found a number of valuable historical paintings. They were found in a secret enclosure of an old wall, which was not revealed until the entire structure had been destroyed by blasting. The pictures represent two important historical events—the destruction of the old Saurbrücken bridge by the Swedes in 1634, and the burning of the neighboring castle in 1794. Both are an important contribution to the story of the times, and are also supposed to be of no mean artistic value.

Theory of Earth's Interior.

For the best essay on the earth's interior the University of Jena has awarded a prize to M. Thiene, whose theory is thus outlined: The mean density of the earth is known to be more than five times that of water. As the surface rocks have an average density of only 2½ and water of 1, the interior must have a density of about 7.7—that of iron. It is fairly certain also that the rigidity is slightly greater than that of steel. He concludes that the earth's crust is about 950 miles thick, instead of the 30 miles of the common estimate, and that it encloses a very dense and rigid core that he calls barysphere.

THE WAR CHEST

With South American republics waiting for an opportunity to fly at each other's throats and Turkey on the upward path after an internal war, and Persia at present quelling down a revolution, the question of the war chest comes again into prominent place.

Fortunately Bolivia is in the interior of South America, and does not enjoy communication with the outside world except over routes controlled by its neighbors, and hostilities between that country and Argentina, which are now seriously threatened, could be isolated to cause the minimum of disturbance to the world's business.

The cause of quarrel looks superficial, but it is quite possible that Argentina has for some months past recognized the possibility of strained relations with its neighbor and has taken steps to accumulate a war-chest.

There have been excellent reasons why Argentina was entitled to draw gold from the rest of the world. The balance of trade in its favor has been large. Its exports of grain and meat have formed an important part of the sustenance of the old world. There has also been a movement by the packing interests here to secure a foothold in that country, and we may be sure that the transfer of capital has been partly influential in the shipment of gold from New York and other points.

Those shipments, however, have been so remarkably heavy that one is tempted to look a little below the surface. Argentina is perhaps the most influential and wealthy of the South American republics. Its government is enlightened and progressive, and even after allowing for Brazil's preponderance in coffee, to say nothing of Para rubber, Argentina may still be said to represent in some ways the most powerful and effective commercial force on the South American continent.

Argentina would be acting wisely in establishing herself as in some measure the France of the southern hemisphere. France's position in Europe has been largely based on her ability to do business on a cash basis. This has protected her against jealous and powerful neighbors, and has given her a voice in the councils of Europe, perhaps out of proportion to her population, although not to her enlightenment and thrift. Argentina has the advantage of a strategic position much stronger relatively to the other South American states than that of France in Europe, and with strong banking power added to this, her voice in the affairs of her continent would indeed be a powerful one.

The reasons for the strained relations with Bolivia are too superficial to satisfy. Argentina has had boundary disputes with her more powerful neighbors, Brazil and Peru. The dispute with the latter was referred to Argentina for arbitration. The Argentine president rendered a verdict in favor of Peru after what appears to have been a painstaking consideration of all the facts. Arbitration is all very well if the decision is in your favor, but one of the problems of the Iguazu is presented in the unwillingness to acquiesce where national feeling is strongly concerned. The decision was bitterly resented and the sanctity of the Argentine constitution in Bolivia was outraged, with the result that a cause of quarrel involved.

ing national susceptibilities has been established.

To the cool observer this seems like enough to fight about, but there are probably underlying influences, including border difficulties between the two countries. It is strongly to be suspected, therefore, that the Argentine imports of gold represent something more than the mere redressing of the balance of trade.

A PROGRAM OF BUSINESS EXPANSION

The building of the Panama canal is already causing capital to move to the Pacific coast in anticipation of operations through this waterway as remote as 1915. It has been estimated in some quarters that within no longer period a sum of banking capital, amounting to no less than $5,000,000, under the auspices of financial interests in the United States, may be put at the service of the commercial and financial world in Latin-American countries alone.

Another part of a comprehensive program of business expansion is the closer identification of United States financiers with the floating of government, state and other bonds authorized by South and Central American governments. The annual output of these securities is increasing and the position of these issues has been so much improved, with the expansion of economic interests since the Baring failure of 1890, that our own portion of the investing world is prepared to appreciate these offerings.

A third part of the program, looking to closer relations with Latin-American, is the operation of adequate shipping lines. President Taft is known to have under consideration a special message to congress in which the encouragement of shipping under the American flag is to be earnestly advocated. His predecessor never fully grasped the importance of this subject as a part of the mechanism of expansion. But President Taft has what might be called a world-market mind, and realizes the strategic aspects of the situation confronting the United States. We are throwing open to the world the greatest agency of commercial reorganization since the Suez canal was built, while at the same time we are practically without the maritime facilities necessary to realize any of the advantages which must come with the opening of the Panama canal.

In this program of business expansion of continental proportions the problem of developing markets for our manufacturers with Latin-American, in exchange for their raw materials, including hides, rubber, coffee, fruits and fibers, must necessarily play a large part. Probably our own manufacturers have hitherto been at fault. In times of domestic depression they have stimulated foreign sales only to abandon such connections when domestic market prices proved to be more tempting. But there is reason to believe that there is less and less of this with each year.

Permanent interchanges must be the basis for enduring international relations. As this is built up the running of suitable ships to both coasts, even if temporarily at a loss, the marketing of securities in our investing world, and the operation of banks at the main distributing centers, will give us the system of agencies necessary for the expansion of business for which the United States has already waited too long.

RIGHT ON THE WRIST

A writer in the current number of the North American Review, Henry Jones Ford, who holds the chair of professor of politics in Princeton university, takes a valedictory slap at the direct primary system, which is now in vogue in a number of the states and bids fair to be soon adopted by several others, as a result of the agitation kept up in its favor. Professor Ford declares that the contention that this system takes the power from the politicians and gives it to the people is "pure nonsense" and a "pretense." He declares that in reality it results in a "scramble for power among faction chiefs and their bands, while the people are despised and oppressed." He argues that it breeds graft, irresponsibility, plutocracy, democracy and the oppression of the poor. And in conclusion the professor says he has "yet to find an instance in which a direct primary law has actually tended to promote good government, and it is only by some dire confusion of thought that good men can advocate such a pernicious nostrum." The conclusions of the writer coincide quite accurately with the experience Wisconsin has had with the system so far.

France and Germany are so jealous of each other that it is now probable some German will sail from Berlin to London, just to show it can be done, if he does John Bull will have an expression on his face that is not pleasing, to say the least.

Recently the Spaniards have not forgotten the little trouble they had with the United States in 1898 and do not want to see a war in Africa and as did the one in Cuba and the Philippines.

Thus far the state board of control has had its hands full with the Green Bay reformatory scandal and have not had a chance to take up other matters in schools also under their control.

Those stand-pat congressmen are now wondering what party they do belong to. They find that certain little privileges are being cut off in a manner that is surprising.

The conference committee of the Senate and House are not sleeping on beds of roses these days and the members are certainly earning their salary.

Far western senators' promises of interesting developments on the floor of the Senate when the question of Free Hides comes up will be watched with interest by the eastern manufacturers who want the hides free.

Chicago is having a taste of graft inquiry that will result in nothing more than a shakeup in the police department and a lot of new men getting in on the graft.

There is one thing certain: that congress will discover that Honorable Bill Taft is not short of nerve and they should be careful of the kind of a tariff package they hand to him.

The Sutton hearing at Annapolis is showing up the fact that even after men wear the shoulder straps of officers they are just the same as old boys and like to fight with their fists.

That St. Louis woman who is walking to Boston will be older and wiser when she reaches her destination, but it is certain she will not admit she is any older.

The New York chauffeurs are to organize against their employers because they object to the use of their cars for "joy rides" after dark.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

(Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

HUMANITY IS NOBLE.

It was a sight calculated to warm the cockles of a man's heart—Twenty men in Chicago caught hold of a rope tied to an ambulance and ran more than half a mile in a race with death.

The ambulance was wrecked in a crash with a street car, and the horses were too badly injured to proceed.

John Mukus, section hand, whose life these twenty men tried to save, died just as the interior of the hospital reached the man propelled ambulance, prepared to take the patient into the operating room.

Mukus had broken an artery in his leg and was slowly bleeding to death in the ambulance, in which he was being driven to the hospital, when the vehicle crashed into a street car. The horses were injured, and the tongue of the wagon was broken.

Volunteers were called for to drag the ambulance.

A rope was hastily tied in place of the wagon pole, and twenty men started on a fast run for the hospital, followed by a cheering crowd, which took turns at pulling and pushing.

When the ambulance drew up in front of the hospital the crowd sadly realized that the gallant race with death was vain.

The crowd did its best in its spectacular showing of the inherent heroism of humanity.

John Mukus was a laborer.

But the men who tried to save his life were men of all businesses and professions—all sorts and conditions of men united in a common impulse to save a fellow man.

Ah, but this is a good old world! And men are noble.

But meanness is ever in evidence, you say. And cruelty is common.

Um—yes. But—

For every act of meanness I can find you a dozen cases of nobility. For every act of cruelty there are scores of charitable deeds. And for every criminal there are a thousand upright men.

Fundamentally men are good.

The horrid old doctrine of total depravity of the human heart was a teaching of middle age doctrinaires. It is no longer teachable.

There were 300 or more people in the hospital, cheering crowd of people that strained every nerve to save the life of John Mukus, and—

There was not a bad hearted man in the crowd.

Uncle Walt of Emporia

By WALT MASON (Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

Two men are dead in our little town, and one with money was loaded down; and one of the green—

TWO DEAD men long in the Big Men Machine. Of what avail are the rich man's rocks? They'll nail him down in a costly box; and gorgeous garlands the heirs will bring, and the priest will preach and the choir will sing, and prancing horses will haul the hearse—the price will come from the dead man's purse, but not a mourner is really sad; the eyes may weep when when the heart is glad. The dead man never had in his soul another wish than to swell his roll; he lived to gather the shining bones; he plucked a dime till you heard his groans. The other man who has crossed the line, and whom we'll plant in a box of pine, was ever ready to help or cheer when old Miss Fortune was camping near; to help the troubled or soothe their pains he'd go right down in his old blue jeans; "to help a neighbor's pleasure, sure"—and that was the logic that kept him poor, his dead and gone, and the people grieve; and they shed real tears—not the make-believe.

LEANDER CHOATE ISI SEVERELY INJURED

Prominent Oshkosh Man Injured in Bad Runaway This Morning—May Die.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Oshkosh, July 27.—Leander Choate, one of the pioneer residents of Oshkosh, received serious injuries this morning in a runaway accident while watering his horse at the watering trough. When the animal frightened and ran away Mr. Choate attempted to jump out of the buggy and fell dislocating his right shoulder and suffering several injuries. Mr. Choate was president of the Commercial Bank and was president of the Choate and Bray Lumber company.

Strike of Beasli Miners.

In the recent strike of the Beasli miners in Nihama, in northern Japan, the systematic military organization adopted by the mob in its attacks upon the police and troops was impressive. The strikers marched as well as soldiers and fought under commanders as in battle. Evidently the men had not gone through the Manchurian campaign without learning the art of united self-defense. They showed regular signals during action and they deployed and maneuvered like a fighting column. They were pleased to regard hospitals and schools as neutral properties, but all the property belonging to the mining company was reduced to ashes.

An Extraordinary Bread

PLEASE do not think of Yankee Bread as ordinary bread. It is not baked in the usual way—it is baked in live steam ovens.

These ovens are made tight and have low roofs so moisture rising from the bread is retained in the ovens.

But even this is not sufficient. Other steam is forced in under tremendous pressure.

The result is simply wonderful. Every particle of natural moisture is baked right into the loaf.

And that loaf is the most delicious bread ever made. It is the utmost in bread perfection.

You can get it fresh every day from your grocer or from our wagons which pass your house every day. Get a loaf tomorrow and see how your folks like the bread baked in steam. 5c the loaf.

DENTAL CHAT

No tooth brush can thoroughly clean the teeth.

There is a fine crust that forms on the teeth from the saliva which is too hard for the brush to remove.

One should visit a Dentist at least twice a year and have this tartar scraped off.

Then with daily use of tooth powder and brush the teeth can be kept in good order and preserved.

Neglect of the daily brushing allows the food particle to ferment and produces a destructive action on the enamel.

Teeth are good friends to us.

They deserve better care than they usually receive.

RAILROAD MEN MODEST AS BRAVE.

The histories of the modern railroads are replete with tales, fascinating and thrilling as they are, of the deeds of valor performed by the knights of the rail, and scarcely a month passes but we are told of some new heroic deed of great daring and valor on the road. Invariably in reading the accounts of these events we involuntarily scan the printed lines to learn the fates of the crews in the engines.

Railroad trainmen, like soldiers and, in fact, all brave men, are modest. It is only with extreme difficulty that they are led to recount the deeds of their fellows. It seems to be a foregone conclusion with them that each time they pull out their trains they may never return. This trip might be the last.

GOES TO WAUPUN FOR NINE MONTHS

JACK RICE PLEADS GUILTY TO THEFT.

WORE VICTIM'S CLOTHES

Told Where Remainder of Stolen Property Is—Eighthen to Be Out

Jack Rice, American born Italian, clad in the clothes which he stole from Tony Vetrillo, happy and seemingly unmindful of the consequences of his deed, was this morning sentenced to nine months imprisonment in the state's prison at Waupun, after vainly trying to shield his partner, Michael Rice from being punished as principal or accomplice in the deed.

For over half an hour, the two prisoners shackled together, sat inside the railing in the municipal court, returning to the boat of their ability the towns and cities which four of their countrymen whom they had robbed, found at them from outside the railing.

The crime with which they were charged was committed July 19. Jack and Michael were employed in the coal sheds of the St. Paul R. R. and hunked together with the other laborers including Tony Vetrillo in two old box cars near Friedman's warehouse.

Jack disappeared and the next morning Tony found that he was out a watch valued at $35, a black suit of clothes $25, a brown coat $5, a pair of low shoes, $4, three razors, $4.50, and a thirty-two caliber revolver, $5.50, the whole amounting to $73.

The two Italians were traced to Brownstown which is about 45 miles from here. They had walked the entire distance and at one place had endeavored to sell the razors. At Monroe they pawned the watch for $5. When arrested by Sheriff Schell, Jack was working for a liverman at Brownstown by the name of Chapin, while Michael was employed on a farm about six miles north of the town. Neither made any resistance and they were brought to Janesville this morning leaving Brownstown at 8:30.

When they were arraigned before Judge Milford in municipal court this morning at 11 o'clock, Jack Rice at once admitted his guilt but claimed that his brother, Michael, did not commit the theft but had simply accompanied him when he was told that they both had to leave the city. This statement both prisoners clung to in spite of a severe cross examination.

When captured, Jack wore a still wearing the suit of clothes he appropriated from Vetrillo, while his brother had the brown coat and shoes. On account of the inability of the complainants to talk good English, in addition to the shrewdness of the prisoners, there was considerable difficulty in getting the story straight. After having facts of the case stated plainly, Jack Rice waived examination and signed the petition asking the judge to impose sentence immediately.

In view of the fact that he had told a straight story in regard to the whereabouts of the plunder and to the fact that he was only eighteen years old, the court sentenced him to nine months hard labor at Waupun.

Whether or not Michael Rice was an accomplice or an active partner in the crime is impossible to determine as both prisoners stick to their story and there were no witnesses to the robbery. His hearing will be held tomorrow morning and it is probable that he will plead guilty to the charge of being an accessory after the fact.

According to the story told in court, the men are brothers, but Jack admitted that they were not brothers, but simply partners. He also stated that he was only eighteen years old but when he arrived in Janesville, he told August Bergmann, that he was twenty-one. Although they appear to be a couple of happy-go-lucky fellows, Sheriff Schell said this morning that in a dispute at Brownstown, Jack stuck a revolver in his adversary's nose and threatened to blow his head off. Even in court they begged that the handcuffs be removed in order that they might clean up their countrymen who stood nearby and patted them with right and left Italian and broken English taunts.

BULLDOG JOE LEAVES TOWN AND HIS DEBTS

Notorious Character, Who Kept Fighting Dogs, Took Flight Some Time Last Night On This Morning.

Joe Kniff, a generally known as "Bull Dog Joe," maker of phony dice, breeder and trainer of fighting bull dogs, and all round sporting man, has gone, "vamoses," together with his pack of twenty-five half starved and savage canines. The exodus occurred last night between the hours of 11 p. m. and 4 a. m. and although a few will mourn his loss, mostly on account of bad debts, those who have had occasion to pass his denizens will not grieve.

For some time past there have been complaints registered in the police office regarding the savage bouts at Joe's habitation, situated near the river at the further end of Blue street. Joe insisted that he was not breaking the law against dog baiting but that he was simply trying his dogs out, which to say the least was a strenuous and bloody process. Recently, he was called into the office of the chief of police and told that he would sever his connection with the city of Janesville and take himself, his dogs and his circle of satellites to some other portion of the country. Joe liked the town and became somewhat abusive so was given a chance to think it over in the lockup through one long evening.

Upon being released, he promised that he would betake himself to more promising fields on condition that he would not be arrested on a warrant which District Attorney Fisher was making out charging him with breaking and baiting bull dogs. He disappeared last night between the hours of eleven and four much to the sorrow of Tim O'Rourke who wished to detain his former tenant long enough to collect some rent that was due. Tim watched the old tobacco shed until eleven and then went home to get some sleep. At four he was again at his post but the quarry had disappeared. It is said that Tim will not give alone for they are others who would willingly have loved upon Joe's available asses.

LIQUOR CASE IS OF STATEWIDE INTEREST

Man Who Sold Liquor in Dry Territory With Government License Convicted and Fined.

District attorneys throughout the state of Wisconsin will be interested in the case of the State of Wisconsin against William Shennell, proprietor of the Milton Hotel who was charged with selling intoxicating liquors in dry territory and who, with his attorney E. D. McGowan appeared in municipal court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge, paying a fine of $25 and costs which amounted to $23.80.

It is thought that the method used in convicting Shennell, in regard to which District Attorney Fisher has received many inquiries from all parts of the state, will solve the problem of what is the best way to proceed against those who sell intoxicating liquor with a government license. Since the case has come before the court, Mr. Fisher has been kept busy Mr. Fisher has been kept busy answering requests for a copy of the complaint and inquiries regarding what section of the statute the case is being brought.

Shennell was charged with selling a connection called Malt Mead, an alleged intoxicating liquor, at his hotel in Milton which is dry territory. A chemical analysis of the so-called Mead showed that it contained a large percentage of alcohol than even beer. The charge was then made that he sold an article that was misbranded, for the label stated that the Mead was absolutely non-intoxicating, whereas it contained about the same amount of alcohol that the ordinary beer does.

This case is noteworthy in that it is the first case of its kind ever tried in the state of Wisconsin, and opens the way to convict all those selling Malt Mead or other similar brews in the dry portions of Wisconsin under a government license.

JANESVILLE GIRL ELOPED ON SUNDAY

Viola Luebke Runs Away With Stanley Day—Located at McGregor, Iowa.

In the face of her parents' refusal and despite the fact that his bride-to-be is but little more than sixteen years old, Stanley Day, who is a bachelor by trade, decided that he would wait no longer and accompanied by his sweetheart, Viola Luebke, daughter of F. E. Luebke, 56 South River street, left Janesville secretly sometime Sunday for Richmond Center, where they endeavored to secure a marriage license.

As soon as their absence was discovered the police were notified and after a search found that the eloping couple had gone to Richmond Center. A telephone message from the sheriff at that place stated that they had been refused a marriage license there because of the five-day law, but that they had made known their determination of proceeding to Dubuque, Iowa, where they would encounter no such obstacles. Further inquiries have located them at McGregor, Iowa.

Although they have been and are now opposed to the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Luebke are still working for things in the hope that they can persuade the couple to return. Other than to confirm the facts already stated, Mr. Luebke today refused to give any further information.

JUST HAS "SNAKES" SAYS CITY DOCTOR

August Prellwitz, Picked up in La Prairie, Not Crazy But Suffering From Delirium Tremens.

August Prellwitz, the destitute who was picked up by Sheriff Schell and Turnkey Draflin in La Prairie yesterday, was examined again today by Dr. Sutherland and as the man seemed to show no indications of any mental trouble but rather appeared to be suffering from delirium tremens, it was deemed unwise to send him to the asylum at Mendota.

When the sheriff and turnkey took charge of the man yesterday, he was in rather a sorrowful plight. What few clothes he had on were badly torn and tattered and his body was filthy that even the sight of him was nauseating. Also in his wanderings, he had accumulated a number of bruises and black and blue marks. New clothes were supplied him by Turnmaster Asa Anderson and two bath at the jail relieved his condition somewhat. This morning he kept pulling at the bars in the doorway of the cell as if attempting to break them down.

LOOKS LIKE A COM ING MIDDLEWEIGHT.

Pittsburg has a fighter that is looked upon as one who will some day be the holder of the middleweight title that now belongs to Stanley Ketchel. Recently Ketchel had a six-round bout with Hugo Kelly. It hustled the experienced Italian to get a shooie decision over the corner. Pittsburg backers were willing to stake him well in later bouts, and he will now be in line for battles with Eddie McGearty, Tony Capone and lesser lights of the division.

REMARKABLE BUST OF JAMES J. HILL.

Not later than August 1 there will, home. The bust is to be bronze and the preliminary models prepared by Frodo, an heroic bust of James J. Hill, the genius of the northwest. The most of the work is being met by private subscription among the leading business men of the northwest on the model after a series of sittings with the builder of the great almost Northern railroad in his St. Paul in veneration.

Much Due to Appearance.

The supremacy of the Greeks as a nation was attributable to their commanding physique. Aeschylus had a body which was the pride of his countrymen, and his prowess gave such confidence at the battle of Salamis that there never was any doubt of the issue. The imposing presence of many other great commanders so inspired their men that all fear took wings and victory became assured.

Unlucky Days.

There has been a belief in unlucky days as far back as there is any record. The belief has been, and probably now is, universal. The Saxon calendar allow 24 evil days in 365. Calendars drawn up in the reign of Henry VI. of England reckon 32. There are only two in June, the seventh and the fifteenth. John Aubrey has much to say about unlucky days in his Miscellaneous.

His Thoughts Were of the Bath. When Robert was only three, he found a discarded calendar, and on it the best picture of a woman with only a drapery thrown across her shoulders. He was looking at it very intently, and then said: "Keep your towel around you, girl! Your mamma will come pretty soon with you clothes." —The Bellman.

VISIT AUTOMOBILE FACTORIES ABROAD

Interesting Figures Given Regarding Manufacture of Leading Autos—New Models to Be Added to the Lines Carried By the Hokanson Prielipp Auto Co.

Rudolf Hokanson and Charles F. Spooner of the Hokanson Auto Co., returned from a six day trip in the east, during which time they visited all the prominent automobile factories in order to ascertain the progress which is being made in the automobile industry and to keep themselves posted so as to be in a position to offer their trade the most up-to-date cars. Among other factories visited was the Buick, which machine they have represented in this territory for the past five years. In speaking of this Mr. Hokanson says, "A trip through the Buick Motor Company's plant at Flint, Michigan, leaves much the same impression on the average person as a visit to Niagara or a day spent on the grounds of the world's exposition. From the outside the Buick factory is impressive, the buildings are well grouped and comparatively new and the light gray brick of which they are constructed gives an impression of wholesomeness not often associated with factory surroundings."

"The floor space is actually mammoth. The total working area is nearly forty acres, enough for a really respectable farm. We were told that the floor space of the factory is over a million and a half square feet. We did not think much about the statement, but when we had walked the length of the three floors of the eight hundred foot buildings we began to open our eyes."

The whole Buick plant is remarkably complete in itself, said Mr. Hokanson. This can be best realized when it is known that it includes some fifteen departments, each one of which would make a factory by itself. There are five assembling floors, each making a different model of Buick car. Here the visitor sees the car grow. First there is the bare frame—an unimpressive skeleton of steel. Then the motor is added and the chassis grows into being, the body is joined to the chassis and the wheels are attached, the numerous parts and accessories are placed and the car is painted and finally, when it emerges into the warehouse, it is ready for the owner to step in and take his first ride.

Many of the other departments are no less interesting than the assembling room. The visitor who passes down the aisles on the floor where stock is stored for the use of the assembling department cannot fail to be impressed. There are miles, it almost seems to him, of shelves filled with parts and accessories large and small. Having seen the department mentioned above, the visitor is taken through many more.

There are foundries where iron, aluminum and brass parts are made. There are huge retorts with their white heat and big automatic stamping machines that with a vicious stroke or two turn a bar of solid material into a finished part.

Some idea has been given of the system which prevails throughout the Buick plant. In the first place the Buick establishment is practically complete in itself. With very few exceptions they manufacture everything that enters into their cars. Then specialization is carried to a very high degree. The men in each department do one thing, which they know how to do well.

From General Manager W. C. Durant down, the men in the offices and in the plant believe in the Buick. Mr. Durant sets an example in enthusiasm and application, and his army of 5,200 emulates him. That is a large factor in the success of the Buick.

We secured, said Mr. Hokanson, a few figures which speak volumes of the magnitude and growth of the Buick. The Buick Motor Company employs a grand total of 5,200 men. Five years ago they had a working staff of about 50 men. The fortnightly pay roll of the company is $180,000 or a grand total per year of $4,680,000.

The floor space of the factory is 1,650,000 square feet, nearly forty acres. Five years ago the Buick was made in a building that had 2,000 square feet of floor space. The company has just completed a structure which will add an additional 250,000 square feet. In 1905 they manufactured 350 cars. In 1906 they manufactured 1,400 cars. In 1907 they manufactured 4,100 cars. In 1908, 8,750 cars and in 1909 they manufactured 19,000 cars. During the season of 1910 the Buick people expect to build 30,000 complete cars. The record day's output is 196 cars, made in May of this year.

As a visitor is ready to leave this great plant he cannot but wonder what has made this possible, and of course the very foundation must be looked for in the service which these Buick cars have given in the past and in Mr. Durant's private office are found some official records of what the Buicks have done on road, hill and track.

The Buick won its first great speed race on the Empire Track at New York on October 27, 1906. This event was open to the world and the Buick defeated numerous high powered and high priced cars.

Again in October 10, 1908, on the Vanderbilt Cup Course, the Buick captured the prized Nassau sweepstake. In the international light car race at Havana on November 25, 1908, the Buick defeated every American car entered and won a great victory. One of the most notable speed victories was scored at the New Orleans Mardi Gras celebration of the present year when Burman won the one hundred mile world's championship and lowered the world's record for the distance to 102 minutes 39.35 seconds.

Subsequent to the New Orleans victory the Buick scored a big triumph at Daytona, Florida, where Driver Lewis Strang won two one hundred mile events in the $1,750 Buick, making the one hundred miles in 90 minutes flat.

A more recent notable victory of the Buick car and one that has freshened the minds of everybody was the winning of the Cobe cup at Crown Point on June 19, in the western Vanderbilt race. Very early in its career the Buick won a hill climb victory of great importance. This was the international event on the Eagle Rock, N. J., course on November 24, 1904, defeating cars that were recognized as leading the world's standard up to that time. The Dead Horse Hill meet on May 25, 1906, was featured by the Buick establishing a new record of 1:52½ minutes, which has never since been equaled.

At Willsebarre, Pa., on May 10, 1906, the Buick won the Giant's Despair hill climb contest. Possibly no hill climbing meet has ever attracted more widespread attention than the contest on Lookout Mountain in May last. The Buick won all events, including the free-for-all, with a $1750 Buick. The rules called for no limit to horsepower or price. Fifty thousand people saw this unparalleled "clean-up."

No question can be raised as to the endurance qualities of the Buick, as a record is to be seen that three Buick cars have for three and a half years been engaged in what is doubtless the greatest endurance test in the history of automobiles. Three and a half years ago the holders of a United States government mail carrying contract in New Mexico purchased three Buick cars to use on this route, which is between Torrance and Roswell, N. M. These three have been in constant service over roads—or rather trails—of that half desert region ever since and have covered the 110 miles required of them on an average of 300 days to the year. They carry passengers as well as mail, and have had some most strenuous trips in the deep snows of the winter months.

The total mileage made by each has already reached the 110,000 mark, and the machines are still in active service, with the probability that they will round out five years in Uncle Sam's employment.

In addition to the present Buick line they will have two new and distinct models, which in addition to one other arrangement made will give us a complete line of cars for our territory which will range in price from $500 to $5,000.

A very interesting day was spent at the White Steamer plant at Cleveland, Ohio, where great preparations are being made for the coming year. The greatest change noticeable in the White Steamer line is the use of kerosene instead of gasoline for fuel, as heretofore.

A very interesting trip was also made to the Oldsmobile factory at Lansing, Mich. This factory is now owned by the Buick and is devoted to the turning out of high-priced, high-powered cars. Among their product, which will be well known for 1910, is the Oldsmobile Limited. This particular model has been built with only one aim in view—to produce something finer and better than has heretofore been attempted in the automobile line. This will be a worthy addition to the Buick line.

The trip, Mr. Hokanson says, was very interesting, and the policy, together with the line of cars which the Hokanson-Prielipp Auto Co. will offer for the season 1910 will consist of a line of 2, 4, 6 cylinders, ranging in price from $500, $800, $900, $1,000, $1,200, $1,300, up to $5,000; namely they are: Buick, King of America; full line Oldsmobile, Oakland and White Steamer. Also the Buick Motor Co. now own the different factories above mentioned, including the Cadillac 30 factory and Patterson and several others. Our 1910 demonstrators will arrive here in about four or six weeks at

THE REAL CONTEST FOR PRIZES HAS JUST BEGUN

Contestants Are Waking Up to Opportunity That is Being Offered to Them.

FRIENDS PROVE LOYAL

Admiration of Array of Awards is Expressed and Management Feels Highly Flattered.

It is not necessary to send in money for new subscription immediately upon receipt of same. Contestants may telephone the name of a new subscriber, the paper will be started to him, and ballots secured at any time thereafter, during the contest. Contestants will do well to consider this carefully, as it may relieve them of the necessity of sending money to the office daily, and by so doing they will save time and trouble.

The intense interest that is being taken in the contest is best exemplified by the fact that every day contestants are surprised by the receipt of large numbers of votes cast by friends who have taken an interest in the success of the respective contestants, and who go far out of their way in order to take a hand in the contest. Every day subscriptions are paid at the office, and the votes turned to the standing of some of the contestants, and the subscribers enjoy a little surprise party of their own arrangement when the next publication of the standing of the contestants appears.

Real Contest Just Begins. The real contest for the possession of the prizes offered by The Gazette has just begun, and those who have not yet entered should do so at this time as the hour is yet early, and the field is open to all. The constantly changing positions of the respective contestants and the daily addition of new names to the list is ample evidence of the fact that the contest is only just started, and no one is yet to be taken into the merry war. The remarkable manner in which all the contestants in every district are bunched together would give the impression that all are working at about the same time.

Many of the contestants have taken occasion, either personally or by mail, to compliment The Gazette for the excellent judgment displayed in the choice of prizes, and the management feels well pleased with the evident satisfaction that has been afforded by the array of rewards that is offered to the most popular young ladies in Janesville and vicinity.

Open Evenings. For the benefit of those who cannot call during business hours this office and contest department will be open every evening until 8 o'clock.

SURPRISED HIM

Doctor's Test of Food.

A doctor in Kansas experimented with his boy in a test of food and gives the particulars. He says:

"I naturally watch the effect of different foods on patients. My own little son had of four, and been ill with pneumonia and during his convalescence did not seem to care for any kind of food.

"I knew something of Grape-Nuts and its rather fascinating flavor and particularly of its nourishing and nerve-building powers, so I started the boy on Grape-Nuts and found from the first dish that he liked it.

"His mother gave it to him steadily and he began to improve at once. In less than a month he had gained about eight pounds and soon became as well and strong as had no further anxiety about him.

"An old patient of mine, 73 years old, came down with serious stomach trouble and before I was called had got so weak he could eat almost nothing, and was in a serious condition. He had tried almost every kind of food for the sick without avail.

"I immediately put him on Grape-Nuts with good, rich milk and just a little pinch of sugar. He exclaimed when I came next day, 'Why doctor I never ate anything as good or that made me feel so much stronger.'

"I am pleased to say that he got well on Grape-Nuts, but he had to stick to it for two or three weeks, then he began to branch out a little with rice or an egg or two. He got entirely well in spite of his almost hopeless condition. He gained 22 pounds in two months which at his age is remarkable.

"I could quote a list of cases where Grape-Nuts has worked." Read "The Food of the World" in place.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

IS HUMOR UNKNOWN AMONG ANIMALS?

Trainers Say That It Is Not and That They Know What Is Funny As Well As Man.

Have animals a sense of humor is a question frequently discussed. The writer had an opportunity of satisfying his own mind upon this subject by passing a Sunday afternoon in the menagerie department of the Barnum and Bailey circus. Sunday is holiday for the animals, a day of general delight to all, excepting the carnivorous beasts, who for hygienic reasons are never fed on Sundays.

On this day the monkey cages become the center of interest and become a wealth of evidence as to the animal's instincts of monkey's humor. Many tricks have become proverbial. There was a large ape which resorted to stratagem to enjoy a grimace. Passing his hand behind the back of his "friend," it vigorously tweaked the tail of a third. The latter immediately vented his anger and resentment on his nearest neighbor, much to the delight of the redoubtable.

INCREASE IS SHOWN IN PROPERTY VALUES

Monroe Property Worth $200,000 More This Year Than At Same Time Last Year.

IMPROVED IN THE MARKET. The city assessment roll, which has been completed by Assessor Andrew Schneider shows a total assessed valuation of $2,415,320. This is an increase of $239,927 over last year. There is $1,239,836 in personal property and $2,115,335 in real estate. The local board of review will meet next Monday.

William Owen and his company of twelve people will present "You Like It?" at Turner opera house on Thursday evening of next week. Mrs. Martha McNight, wife of J. C. # The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON

Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

So far as Geneva was concerned, on her part it could mean no more than a diversion, a diversion to conquest, a simple flirtation; it meant the passing of a few days, the killing of time, the pleasure of gentle conquest, and then—forgetfulness. All this he knew.

At first she revolted against the court he so plainly paid to her in these last few days. It was bold, unscrupulous, impudent. She avoided him; she treated him to a short season of disdain; who did all in her power to rebuke his effrontery—and then in the end she decided to give him as good as he sent in this brief battle of folly. It mattered little who came off with the fewest scars, for in a fortnight or two they would go their separate ways, no better, no worse, for the conflict. And, after all, it was very dull in these last days, and he was very attractive and very brave and very gallant and, above all, very sensible.

They rode together in the park every morning, keeping well out of range of marksmen in the hills. Their conflict was with the eyes, the tone of the voice, the intervals of silence; no touch of the hand—nothing except the strategic glow of eyes.

What did it matter if a few dead impulses, a few crippled hopes, a few blasted hopes, were left strewn upon the battlefield at the end of the fortnight? What did anything matter so long as Prince Karl of Brubatz was not there?

One night toward the end of this week of enchanting renoir—this week of effort to uncover the vulnerable spot in the other's armor—Geneva stood leaning upon the rail which inclosed the hanging garden. She was gazing abstractedly into the black night, out of which far away blazed the light in the bungalow. It was the first night in a week that he had missed coming to the chateau.

She missed him. She was lonely. He had told her of the meeting that was to be held at the bungalow that night at which he was to be asked to deliver over to Russia's committee the papers, the receipts and the memoranda that he had accumulated during his months of employment in their behalf. She had a feeling of dread—a numb, sweet feeling that she could not explain except that under all of it lay the proud consciousness that he was a man who had courage, a man who was not afraid.

"How silly I am!" she said half aloud in her abstraction.

She turned her gaze away from the blinding light in the hills, a queer, guilty smile on her lips.

Across the garden from where she was flaying herself bitterly Lady Deppingham's husband was saying in low, agitated tones to Bobby Browne's wife: "Now, see here, Drusilla, I'm not saying that our—that is, Lady Deppingham and Bobby—are accountable for what has happened, but that doesn't make it any more pleasant. It's of little consequence who is trying to poison us, don't you know, and all that. They wouldn't do it, I'm sure, but somebody is! That's what I mean, d'ye see? Lady Dep?"

"I know my husband wouldn't—couldn't do such a thing, Lord Deppingham," came from Drusilla's stiff lips almost as a moan. She was very miserable.

"Of course not, my dear Drusilla," he protested nervously. Then suddenly, as his eye caught what he considered a suspicious movement of Bobby's hand as he placed a card close to Lady Deppingham's fingers: "Dennie, I—Id rather he wouldn't! But I beg your pardon, Drusilla! It's all perfect."

ALL OUT OF SORTS.

Has Any Janesville Person Never Felt That Way?

Feel all out of sorts? Tired, blue, irritable, Nervous? Back feel lame and achy? That's the story of sick kidneys—bad blood circulating about; Urine acid poisoning the body. Just one way to feel right again, Cure the sluggish kidneys; Do it with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have cured many Janesville people.

Here's one case. C. P. Lontor, 1017 Wheeler St., Janesville, Wis., says, "I was in poor health for several months. My whole system seemed to be filled with uric acid. I ached all over and felt miserable. I had but little strength or energy and my kidneys did not act normally. I decided to try a tonic for my kidneys and having often heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box from the People's Drug Co. I felt better in a short time after beginning their use and from my experience have no hesitation in saying that I believe Doan's Kidney Pills are an excellent kidney remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

by innocent." "Of course it's innocent!" whispered Drusilla fiercely.

"It's utter nonsense for us to suspect them of—Pray don't be so upset, Drusilla. It's all right."

"If you think I am worrying over your wife's harmless affair with my husband you are very much mistaken."

Deppingham was silent for a long time.

"I don't sleep at all these nights," he said at last miserably. She could not feel sorry for him. She could only feel for herself and her sleepless nights. "Drusilla, do you think they want to get rid of us? We're the obstacles, you know. We can't help it, but we are. Somebody put that pill in my tea today. It must have been a servant. It couldn't have been—er—"

"My husband, sir?"

"No; my wife. You know, Drusilla, she's not that sort. She has a horror of death and—"

He stopped and wiped his brow pathetically.

"If the servants are trying to poison any of us, Lord Deppingham, it is reasonable to suspect that your wife and my husband are the ones they want to dispose of, not you and me. I don't believe it was poison you found in your tea, but if it was it was intended for one of the heirs."

"Well, there's some consolation in that," said Deppy, smiling for the first time.

The sharp rattle of firearms in the distance brought a sudden stop to his lugubrious reflections. Five, a dozen, a score of shots were heard. The blood turned cold in the veins of every one in the garden; faces blanched suddenly, and all voices were hushed. A form of paralysis seized and held them for a full minute.

Then the voice of Britt below broke harshly upon the tense, still air: "Good God! Look! It is the bungalow!"

A bright glow lighted the dark mountain side; a vivid red painted the trees; the smell of burning wood came down with the breeze. Two or three sporadic shots were borne to the ears of those who looked toward the blazing bungalow.

"They've killed Chase!" burst from the stiff lips of Bobby Browne.

CHAPTER XVII.

CHANCE COMES FROM THE CLOUDS.

FOR many minutes the watchers in the chateau stared at the burning bungalow, fascinated, petrified. Through the mind of each man ran the sudden, sharp dread that Chase had met death at the hands of his enemies.

Geneva felt her heart torn cold. Then something seemed to clutch her by the throat and choke the breath out of her body. Through her brain went whirling the recollection of his last words to her that afternoon, "They'll find me ready if they come for trouble." She wondered if he had been ready for them or if they had surprised him! She had heard the shots. Chase could not have fired them all. Was he now lying dead in that blazing—She screamed aloud with the thought of it!

"Can't something be done?" she cried.

"Can't something be done?" she cried again and again, without taking her gaze from the doomed bungalow. She turned fiercely upon Bobby Browne, his countryman. Afterward she recalled that he stood staring as she had stared, Lady Deppingham clamping his arm with both of her hands. The glance also took in the face of Deppingham. He was looking at his wife, and his eyes were wide and glassy, but not with terror. "It may not be too late!" again cried the princess. "There are enough of us here to make an effort, no matter how futile. We may be alive and trapped up!" "You're right!" shouted Browne. "It's not the kind to go down with the first rush. We must go to him. We can get there in ten minutes. Drift! Where are the guns? Are you with us, Deppingham?"

He did not wait for an answer, but dashed out of the garden and down the steps, calling to his wife to follow. "Stop!" shouted Deppingham. "We dare not leave this place! If they have turned against Chase, they are also turned against us. I'm not a coward, ready for us. We're needed here, that's all. It's too late to help Chase. They've got him, poor devil! Everybody inside! Get to the guns if possible and cut off the servants' quarters. We must not let them surprise us. Follow me!"

There was wisdom in what he said, and Browne was not slow to see it clearly. With a single penetrating glance at Geneva's despairing face, he shook his head gloomily and turned to follow Deppingham, who was hurrying off through the corridor with her ladyship.

"Come," he called, and the princess, feeling Drusilla's hand grasping her arm, gave one helpless look at the fire and hastened to obey.

HAY ASSOCIATION CONVENES.

Rate Case to Be Discussed in Cedar Point Convention.

Cedar Point, O., July 27.—The National Hay Association began today what promises to be the most important convention it has held since its organization 15 years ago. The constitution and by-laws, the trade rules and the arbitration rules are to be revised, and the hay rate case, which has been a subject of discussion in every recent convention, is scheduled for final disposition at this session.

When President Maurice Neizer of Monroeville, Ind., called the convention to order this morning the attendance was gratifyingly large, about 25 states being represented by delegates. Gov. Harmon formally welcomed the visitors and Mr. Neizer made suitable response, after which W. H. Robinson of Greenspring, O., delivered the memorial address. This afternoon Secretary P. E. Goodrich of Winchester, Ind., and several committees made their reports and papers were read by Joseph Timmons of Kinton, O., and C. H. Bates of Boston. The convention will come to an end Thursday with the installation of new officers.

INDIANS WANT "JAG" BEANS.

Winnebagoes Going to the Bow-Wows Without the Peyote.

Washington, July 27.—If the great white father at Washington does not restore the Indian his beans the Winnebagoes in Nebraska may go to the eternal bow-wows. This is the gist of an appeal to the Indian office from this tribe of Indians.

The beans demanded by the Indians are known as the musical bean or peyote. They have a combination of virtue and vice wrapped up inside of them. The Indian experts say the beans are a narcotic and as dangerous to the Indian as whisky, chloral, cocaine, morphine or any other drug. The Indians refute this by saying the bean is a part of their religion; that it was given them by God to reform them. It is a part of the religion of the Winnebagoes to chew beans and thus directly hold communion with God.

Refuses to Enjoin Strikers.

Goshen, Ind., July 27.—The petition of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company for an injunction against its striking employes at the Elwood plant was denied by Judge Baker in the United States circuit court.

Britain to Build Great Ships.

London, July 27.—The big navy campaign has won the day and four additional super-Dreadnaughts are to be added to the current year's ship-building program.

Twelve Die in French Mine.

Clermont-Ferrand, France, July 27.—An explosion of fire-damp occurred today in one of the mines near here, causing the death of 12 miners.

MRS. PARKHURST IS COMING.

Leader of English Suffragettes to the American Women. New York, July 27.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leading spirit among the militant suffragettes of England, is coming to America to put a little ginger into the "votes for women" campaign on this side.

It had been suspected for some weeks that the forthcoming campaign in the cause of equal suffrage was going to be the warmest ever held in America, but now that the renowned English woman is to aid there can be no doubt about it.

Mrs. Pankhurst is regarded by the house of parliament as a veritable "terror." The famous British advocate does not expect to remain long, because there is a little matter of going to jail in England that must be attended to.

Taft's Father-in-Law Improves.

Cincinnati, July 27.—John W. Horton, father-in-law of President Taft, who suffered a mild stroke of paralysis Saturday, was reported much better.

Russians to Supplant Japs.

Honolulu, July 27.—Hawaiian sugar planters are contemplating importing Russian immigrants to solve the labor problem in the islands.

Teeth Were Against Him.

Senator Curtis of Kansas, has a dentist constituent who wished to enter the dental corps of the navy. The senator went to the navy department and secured a permit for the man to take the examination, which he did and came through with flying colors. Then he was called up for physical examination and was rejected because of the poor condition of his teeth.

TRACED BY HIS MACARONI.

"Black Hand" Leader's Love for Native Food Brings Arrest.

Cincinnati, July 27.—Betrayed by a dish of macaroni into the hands of the United States post-office inspectors is the true story of the capture of Salvatore Arrigo, Septuaginary, alleged to have been the overseer of the "Black Hand" and the Society of the Banana of the middle west. "Salvatore Arrigo," said Inspector Oldfield, "is one of the fellows who got away from us when we made our first raid on the Sicilian settlement in Cincinnati. Arrigo could not subsist on the vegetables and fruits indigenous to Clermont county, where he went to hide. He had to have his macaroni and spaghetti every day, and somebody had to take it to him. We got trace of the somebody, whom we traced and soon had Arrigo located."

GOOD FROM THE START

Fifty-five years ago Gunde's Beers were made in a log brewery and brewed in a six-gallon kettle. The superior grade of barley grown about this sparsely settled region was the chief attraction that drew this famous German brewmaster to La Crosse. Now it is the heart of the world's finest barley growing belt and the cream of every barley crop comes to his brewery, from which combined with the finest hops grown in Old Bohemia, is brewed. Instead of a log brewery today, there stands a mammoth model 20th century plant operated and lighted by electricity to which visitors are always welcome.

It is impossible to brew a beer of a higher quality than Peerless. You should see that it is always in your home. Telephone us today for a case of Peerless, the beer of matchless flavor.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

I F ONLY I could go back and live the last three years of my life over again I'd do it very much better," a girl said to me the other day.

"You would probably do just the same things you did before if you were placed in the same position," I said.

"But I mean if I knew all I do now," she said.

"The old, old story," I answered. "To put it in plain words you want to have your pie and eat it too."

And then I told her this little fable.

Once on a time there was a man who, like a good many other men before and since, rebelled greatly against growing old. "I was never meant to be old," he said. "I enjoy living too much. I want my life over again."

So one day when a traveler came back from a foreign land and told the man that he had heard a rumor of a wonderful mill that ground old men over and made them young again, the youth leaped straightway upon his mind that he would start out at once and seek until he should find that wonderful place.

He had much difficulty in locating it but at last he managed to get on the right track and when some one told him he was only a couple of hundred miles away from the site of the wonderful mill he was very happy.

That night he could hardly sleep.

"I must not get impatient though," he told himself, "for doubtless there will be hundreds and thousands of people there ahead of me waiting for their turn to be made young again. I must possess my soul in patience."

The next day he reached the mill. And to his wonderment there were no crowds thronging about it as he had expected, no guards and attendants, no huge buildings, no excitement, only a crumbling little mill and an old woman at the gate.

Yes, this was the mill of youth, she answered his query. Yes, she was the attendant. When could he be made young? At once if he wished. All he must do was to be ground over again. He would come out young and strong.

Hardly she dared, he followed the woman to the mill. On the steps she paused, to "Oh, one thing more," she said. "There is one condition to which you must submit. You must promise to do everything in your life over again just as you did the first time."

"I thought it was too good to be true," he said.

And like all the rest he left the old woman at the gate and went away still an old man.

For a Soft Corn.
Procure an Ivy leaf, soak it in vinegar for some hours and apply to the corn. Allow it to remain on the whole day. Repeat the application for several successive days and the corn will take its departure.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, in the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a yellow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whiskey or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

Food Specialist.

WATER.

Water is in a sense more necessary than food; life can be maintained for 40 days or more, in many cases, without food, but hardly for five days without water. The body is composed chiefly of water. The blood cells, the aggregate of whose life makes up the life of the body, can live only in liquid. Moisture is needed in every part of the body and elimination through the skin and kidneys is very largely dependent upon abundant supply of water.
